Nomination Form

SCMAO Rising Star Award

Nominee:
Name:
Title:
Organization:
Phone:
Email:
SCMA Member No:

To be awarded to an SCMAO member who, early in their career, already demonstrates characteristics of strong leadership, passion, innovation and creativity, and a dedication to the supply chain profession. Not only will the nominee exhibit their personal commitment to their chosen career path, they will also be inclined to influence and inspire others, either within their peer groups, or outwardly by expanding the awareness and understanding of supply chain functions and contributions, to our corporations, our communities and our economy.

The recipient of the SCMAO's Rising Star Award will be invited to the SCMAO Conference and Gala Dinner, held in the fall, where they will be presented with their award.

The recipient of the SCMAO's Rising Star Award will then be nominated for the SCMA Ascendant Award. Each of the Institutes' Rising Star Award recipients will be presented with a Top 10 Certificate.

From the Top 10 Rising Stars, the SCMA National Awards Committee will select the best of the brightest who will be awarded the Ascendant Award and invited to the SCMA National Annual Conference in the summer, and will be presented their award at the Awards Gala Luncheon, along with the other Awards of Distinction recipients.

Nominations will remain open until September 21, 2018.

Eligibility: A supply chain professional, within their first five years of SCMAO Membership, who is a resident of Canada and a member in good standing of SCMAO.

Section A: The Career Record

For this section, provide responses to the best of your ability. If possible, obtain and include a copy of the Nominee's current resume or LinkedIn Profile if suitable (Suggestion: Using a "resume style", paraphrase information to highlight the education, skills and experiences that make your Nominee the ideal person to receive the "Award Winner" job). Refer enquiries to the Nominee's employer and/or home institute, friends, co-workers or family for assistance.
